DETAILED ACTION

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on July 8, 2005 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1, 5 and 31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Moles (5932799).

Moles teaches a composite comprising a non elastomeric substrate 10 containing a first recess 12 and a elastomeric layer 4 containing a second recess 24, 26 wherein the elastomeric layer contains a portion 8 that forms a ceiling over the first recess and can be actuated into the first recess as shown in figure 1C. The recess is disclosed as less than 500microns. Layers 4 and 8 are formed of the same type polymer (i.e. polyimide), therefore, are both considered flexible to at least some degree. Refer to figures 1B and 1C along with column 1, lines 64-67, column 3, lines 25-65 and column 8, lines 52-61. This rejection is made under 102(b) since the non elastomer and elastomer configuration is deemed to be the new material included in this CIP of the parent. Therefore, the effective filing date of this embodiment is November 28, 2000, not the filing date of the parent or provisional applications.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1, 5 and 31 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
